ROBERTSON IN FINE FORM

The Ninth Street team of the Sunday School League went down to defeat at the hands of the Commissioners, of the Departmental League, when the latter nine scored three runs in the final inning, winning 6 to 3.

Robertson, who is conceded to be one of the classiest twirlers in the District, allowed Ninth only four scattered hits. Whitney also pitched good ball, but he lacked control. He held the Commissioners hitless until the fifth round, but in the last three innings they garnered six safe hits off his delivery.

C. Broome caught Thomas sound asleep in the seventh inning, and pilfered third base.
